

Core Skills Analysis

English

- The student practiced storytelling by reenacting the Three Little Pigs story, enhancing their narrative skills.
- They improved their vocabulary through describing the materials used in building the pig den (straw, sticks, bricks).
- Reading comprehension skills were developed as they understood the sequence of events in the story and applied it to building their den.
- Creativity and imagination were stimulated as the student designed and built their own interpretation of the pig den.

Tips

To further enhance the activity, encourage the child to write a short story or a play based on their den-building experience. Incorporating dialogues and different characters can enrich their narrative skills. Additionally, have them create illustrations or diagrams to visually represent their den designs, fostering a deeper understanding of storytelling through both words and images.
