

- Understanding the concept of family and the role of parents in taking care of pets
- Learning about responsibility and the importance of following instructions while giving medication to pets
- Developing empathy towards animals and understanding the need for proper care and treatment
- Learning about the importance of hygiene and cleanliness while handling pets and their medication

Parents can continue to develop the child's understanding of social studies concepts by involving them in activities such as volunteering at animal shelters or participating in community events related to animal welfare. They can also encourage the child to read books or watch documentaries about different cultures and their relationship with animals. This will help the child develop a broader perspective on social issues and the importance of compassion and empathy towards all living beings.
