

Core Skills Analysis

English

- The 13-year-old student likely improved their vocabulary by searching for and identifying conjunctive adverbs in the word search.
- Looking for conjunctions in a word search can enhance the student's understanding of sentence structure and grammar rules.
- The activity may have helped the student recognize the importance of conjunctive adverbs in forming cohesive and meaningful sentences.
- By completing the word search, the student might have also enhanced their reading comprehension skills as they encountered conjunctive adverbs in sentences.

Tips

To continue developing language skills after the word search activity, encourage the student to create their own word searches focusing on different grammar concepts like parts of speech or sentence structures. Additionally, integrating conjunctive adverbs in creative writing exercises or journal entries can reinforce their understanding of these important connectors in English sentences.
