

Core Skills Analysis

English

- Expanded vocabulary by learning and understanding complex terms related to the digestive system such as mastication, peristalsis, enzymes, absorption, and elimination.
- Developed dictionary skills by using a dictionary to find definitions, enhancing word comprehension and usage.
- Practiced research skills by consulting multiple books to gather information, promoting critical reading and synthesis of ideas.
- Improved writing ability through composing a research summary, which helped organize thoughts clearly and use new vocabulary contextually.

Tips

To deepen Christopher's vocabulary and research skills, encourage him to create a visual vocabulary map connecting the new words with their meanings and functions in the digestive system. Invite him to illustrate each term or act out its process to reinforce understanding kinesthetically. Foster critical thinking by comparing these biological terms with more familiar or everyday words. Finally, extend the research by having him present his findings orally, focusing on using the new vocabulary in sentences to build confidence and speaking skills.
