

Art

- The child learned about color mixing by using paint to create different shades and hues for the helicopter landing pad.
- They practiced fine motor skills by cutting and shaping the cardboard to form the landing pad.
- They explored creativity and imagination by designing their own unique helicopter landing pad.
- The child gained an understanding of perspective by considering how the landing pad would look from various angles.

Math

- The child utilized measurement skills to ensure the dimensions of the landing pad were appropriate for a helicopter to land on.
- They applied geometry concepts by creating and manipulating different shapes with the cardboard.
- They practiced estimation by estimating the amount of paint needed to cover the landing pad.
- The child learned about symmetry by ensuring both sides of the landing pad were balanced and visually appealing.

For continued development, encourage the child to explore other modes of transportation and create landing pads for them using different materials such as clay, recycled materials, or even digital design tools. They can also learn about famous helicopters or helicopter pilots and incorporate elements of their stories into their landing pad designs. Encourage them to experiment with different painting techniques and textures to add depth and visual interest to their creations.

Book Recommendations

- Helicopters: How They Work by David Macaulay: This book provides a detailed look at the mechanics and inner workings of helicopters, perfect for curious minds interested in understanding the science behind their design.
- The Helicopter Heist by Jonas Bonnier: A thrilling adventure novel where a group of criminals plan an audacious helicopter heist, combining suspense and excitement with the fascination of helicopters.
- The Helicopter Pilot's Handbook by Brian Cosgrove: An informative guide that explores the world of helicopter piloting, providing insights into the skills, training, and experiences of helicopter pilots.

If you click on these links and make a purchase, we may receive a small commission.