

English Language Arts

- The child learned vocabulary related to cleaning and teamwork, such as "sweep," "mop," and "work together."
- The child practiced listening and following instructions by understanding the tasks involved in cleaning and cooperating with their team.
- Through discussions with their team, the child developed their speaking and communication skills.
- The child may have engaged in storytelling and imaginative play while pretending to be part of a cleaning crew, enhancing their creativity and narrative abilities.

Encourage the child to continue developing their English Language Arts skills by engaging in role-play activities that involve teamwork and cleaning. They can take turns pretending to be different characters and create stories around different cleaning scenarios. This will not only reinforce their vocabulary but also improve their verbal communication and storytelling skills.
