

Dolphins are very smart and playful animals that live in the ocean. One fun thing they like to do is ride waves, just like people who surf!

So, why do dolphins like riding waves?

- It's fun: Dolphins enjoy playing in the water, and riding waves is like a big ocean slide for them.
- It helps them swim faster: When dolphins catch a wave, the wave pushes them along, so they don't have to use as much energy to swim.
- It can help them catch food: Sometimes dolphins ride waves to get closer to schools of fish or to surprise their dinner!
- They like to show off: Dolphins are social animals and enjoy jumping and doing flips; riding waves is part of their fun tricks.

So, just like surfers love to ride waves for fun and excitement, dolphins do too! They are amazing ocean friends who enjoy playing and exploring their watery world.
