

Here are 7 ways to say that a hedgehog curls up into a prickly ball when it's scared:

1. A hedgehog rolls into a ball with sharp spikes when it feels afraid.
2. When a hedgehog is scared, it curls up tight like a little spiky ball.
3. If a hedgehog sees danger, it hides by turning into a prickly ball.
4. Hedgehogs make themselves small and spiky to stay safe when scared.
5. When a hedgehog is in trouble, it puckers up into a sharp ball.
6. To protect itself, a hedgehog curls up into a prickly round ball.
7. When afraid, a hedgehog tucks its body into a spiky ball to hide.