

Hi there, little buddy! Washing dishes is like a fun adventure where you get to be a superhero who saves the kitchen from the evil dirt and grime! Ready to learn how? Let's go!

First, gather your supplies. You'll need some soapy water, a sponge (the softest and cuddliest one you can find), and a towel to dry everything off. Imagine you're in a magical land where soap bubbles are your friends, helping you fight off the clutches of sticky spaghetti and slippery syrup!

Next, turn on the water. Make sure it's warm, like a nice cozy hug! Dip your sponge into the soapy water, and then get ready to scrub-a-dub! Start with the glasses and plates because they'd love to sparkle and shine. It's like giving them a little bubble bath. Remember, sing a silly song while you wash. Everyone loves a good tune, even plates!

As you rinse off the dishes, be careful of slippery spots! Just like how you wouldn't want to slip on a banana peel in a cartoon, make sure you don't drop anything. Rinse each dish under the water until it's squeaky clean—it's like a fresh start for them! Yay!

Finally, use your towel to dry off the dishes, or if the dishes prefer, let them air dry like superheroes standing tall to soak in the sun. And voila! You'll have the shiniest dish brigade the kitchen has ever seen. You did it! Give yourself a high-five because you're now a dish-washing champion!
