

Popeye is a friendly sailor who loves to eat spinach and go on exciting adventures! But why is he called Popeye?

His name comes from the way his eyes look. When he is surprised or looks carefully, his eyes bulge out a bit, like he's peeking at something closely. This gave him a funny look, and people thought it was special, so they called him 'Popeye'!

Also, the character was created by a cartoonist named Elzie Crisler Segar. He wanted a funny and strong character for his comic strip, and the name Popeye just fit perfectly! So, that's why we know him as Popeye today!

Isn't that fun? Every time you watch Popeye, you can remember how his unique name comes from his funny eyes!
