

Why Are Police Cars Fast?

Okay, little friend! Imagine you hear a loud noise, like a firework, and it starts to get scary. The police are like superheroes, and they have special cars called police cars.

These police cars are super fast because they need to get to people who need help right away! When someone is in trouble, the police want to be there super quickly to make sure everyone is safe.

Just like how we run fast when we play tag, police cars zoom quickly on the road. They have bright lights and loud sirens to let everyone know they are coming.

So, when you see a police car driving fast, remember they are rushing to help someone, kind of like how your parents rush to help you when you fall down!
