

What is a Dumper Truck?

A dumper truck, also known as a dump truck, is a special kind of big vehicle that helps move things around. But what kind of things does it carry? Let's find out!

1. What Does a Dumper Truck Do?

A dumper truck is like a big box on wheels! It can tilt or 'dump' things out of its box. This is super helpful at construction sites or when building roads!

2. What Do They Carry?

Dumper trucks can carry many kinds of things:

- Sand: They help move sand for building roads or playgrounds!
- Gravel: This tiny stone helps to make strong roads!
- Soil: When people want to plant trees or flowers, they need soil, and dumper trucks bring it!
- Trash: In some places, dumper trucks help to take away garbage, too!

3. How Do They Work?

When the truck gets to where it needs to go, it can lift the back part of the truck and let everything fall out. It's like magic when all the stuff comes out!

4. Why Are They Important?

Dumper trucks help us build things and keep our places clean. Without them, it would take a long time to move all the heavy materials!

So, the next time you see a dumper truck, you can tell your friends what it carries and how important it is! Isn't that cool?
