

What Do Ambulances Have?

Ambulances are special vehicles that help people who are hurt or sick. They have many important tools inside to give first aid. First aid is like a superhero's help before going to the hospital!

1. Medicine

Ambulances carry different kinds of medicine. Medicine can help people feel better when they are in pain or when they are very sick. The paramedics know just the right medicine to give. It's like when you take your cough syrup when you're sick!

2. Oxygen Masks

Sometimes, people have trouble breathing. So, ambulances have oxygen masks. These masks help deliver oxygen to the person. It's kind of like a little bubble that gives people fresh air to breathe, making them feel better quickly!

Why Are These Tools Important?

These tools are super important because they help keep people safe and healthy until they can get to a hospital. Ambulances are like tiny hospitals on wheels, ready to help anyone who needs it!
