

Hi little one! ☐ Do you see those twinkly, shiny things in the night sky? Those are called stars! ☐

Stars are like big balls of fire, super far away from us. They are really, really hot! ☐ Some are big, some are small, and some are super-duper far away, so they look tiny to us.

During the day, we can't see stars because the sun is shining so bright! ✨ But when it gets dark at night, the stars start to come out and say hello! Oh, and sometimes they twinkle like they are winking at us! ☐

People like to look at stars and make pictures with them. These pictures are called constellations. Isn't that cool? ☐

So remember, stars are like sparkling dots in the sky that we can see at night, and they are super fun to look at!

Can you point to a star next time you see one? ☐
