

Well, a therian is a person who feels a deep and strong connection to a particular animal. They may feel like they share some of the traits or characteristics of that animal. Think of it like when you have a favorite animal that you really love and feel a special bond with.

For example, let's say you really love wolves. If you were a therian who feels a connection to wolves, you might feel like you have a wolf's spirit inside you. You might feel like you relate to how wolves behave, communicate, or even move.

It's important to remember that being a therian is a personal and emotional feeling, kind of like having a really strong favorite animal. It's not about actually physically turning into an animal, but more about feeling a close connection and identifying with that animal in a special way.

Therians often express their connection to their animal through things like art, writing, or even pretending to be that animal for fun. It's like how you might pretend to be a lion when you roar and pounce around the house, but for therians, it's a deeper and more meaningful part of who they are.

It's important to be kind and accepting of people who feel like they are therians, just like we respect and appreciate everyone's unique interests and feelings. Everyone is different and that's what makes the world so interesting!
