

Okay, sweetie! Let's talk about a special music instrument called an accordion. Imagine a big box that makes music!

This box has round buttons you can press with your fingers, and it also has long white and black keys that look like the keys of a piano. Can you remember how we play on the piano?

But the best part is the bellows! The bellows are like a big accordion tummy that goes in and out! When you pull it apart and then push it back together, it helps the accordion make lovely sounds.

So, when you press the buttons and pull the bellows, it makes beautiful music! Isn't that fun?
