

What is a School Bus?

Imagine a big, friendly vehicle that takes you and your friends to school. That's a school bus! It's yellow and has lots of seats for kids like you!

Normal School Buses

Most school buses are designed to keep everyone safe. They have big windows, high roofs, and plenty of seats. But they don't have anything like shelves inside.

What are Shelves in a School Bus?

Now, some school buses have a special design with shelves. These shelves are like small tables or ledges on the sides inside the bus. They are there to hold backpacks, books, or lunch boxes!

Why are Shelves Useful?

- Keeps Things Organized: Instead of putting your backpack on the floor, you can place it on a shelf, which keeps the bus tidy!
- More Space: With shelves, there's more room for kids to sit and move around, so it feels less crowded.
- Safer Rides: When your stuff is on the shelf, it won't roll around while the bus is driving. This means fewer chances of someone tripping over a bag!

Conclusion

So, you see, some school buses are designed differently because they have shelves. These shelves help keep things organized, give everyone more space, and help keep you safe while you're having fun on the bus!
