

Okay, little friend! When we say 'stamp the letter,' it means we put a special sticker, called a stamp, on an envelope that holds a letter. Let me explain step by step:

1. Writing a Letter: First, we write a message to someone we want to talk to, like a friend or family member.
2. Putting it in an Envelope: After we write our letter, we put it in a paper envelope, which is like a little bag for our letter.
3. Finding a Stamp: Now, we need a stamp! A stamp is a small sticker with a picture on it, and it shows that we paid to send our letter.
4. Placing the Stamp: We take the stamp and stick it on the top right corner of the envelope. This is called 'stamping the letter.' It's very important because the stamp helps the mailman know that our letter can travel through the mail.
5. Sending the Letter: Finally, we put the stamped envelope into a mailbox, and the mailman takes it to deliver it to our friend!

And that's how we 'stamp the letter' so it can go on its journey!
