

Okay, little buddy! Let's talk about bricks and walls!

Imagine when you build a big tower with blocks. When you put one block on top of another, you make it taller and stronger. Bricks are like blocks but are made of special materials that help make strong walls for houses!

When many bricks are stacked together, they hold each other up and make a strong wall that can keep the rain out and help us stay warm inside. So, just like your tower, when lots of bricks come together, they make something really strong!

Isn't that cool? So, remember, 'bricks make strong walls' means bricks work together to protect us!
