

The word therefore is an adverb used to indicate a conclusion or result based on previously stated information. It is commonly used to connect two ideas, showing that what follows is a logical consequence of what has been said before. For example, in the sentence 'It was raining; therefore, we stayed indoors,' 'therefore' shows that staying indoors was a result of the rain.