Talking Points

- Maps and globes are tools we use to show us where places are in the world. You can think of them as special pictures that help us understand our planet better.
- When we look at a map, we can see different shapes and colors that represent countries, cities, oceans, and more. It's like a big puzzle of the world!
- Globes are round like a ball because the Earth is round too. They show us how the Earth looks from space. It's like holding the whole world in your hands!
