

Objective

By the end of this lesson, Sharon will have a deeper understanding of Greek mythology, including key gods and goddesses, their stories, and their significance in ancient Greek culture. She will create a digital presentation that showcases her research and findings, as well as complete a worksheet that reinforces her learning.

Materials and Prep

- Computer or tablet with internet access
- Presentation software (such as Google Slides or PowerPoint)
- Worksheet template (to be created by the teacher)
- Access to online resources about Greek mythology (websites, videos, etc.)
- Note-taking materials (digital or paper)

Before the lesson, ensure that Sharon has access to a reliable internet connection and is familiar with the presentation software she will be using. Prepare a worksheet template with questions related to the topics she will explore.

Activities

- Research Assignment: Sharon will research three major Greek gods or goddesses (e.g., Zeus, Athena, Poseidon) using online resources. She will take notes on their attributes, stories, and importance in mythology.

Encourage her to look for interesting facts or lesser-known stories that can make her presentation unique.

- Digital Presentation Creation: Using her research notes, Sharon will create a digital presentation that includes images, key facts, and a summary of each god or goddess she studied. She can use bullet points for clarity and visuals to enhance her presentation.

This activity will help her develop digital literacy skills while expressing her creativity.

- Worksheet Completion: Sharon will complete the worksheet you prepared, which includes questions about the gods and goddesses she researched, as well as a section for her to reflect on what she learned.

This will reinforce her understanding and give her the opportunity to articulate her thoughts on Greek mythology.

Talking Points

- "Greek mythology is a collection of stories and legends that explain the beliefs and values of ancient Greek culture."
- "Each god and goddess has unique traits and stories that often reflect human emotions and experiences."
- "Myths were not just stories; they were a way for the Greeks to understand the world around them, including natural phenomena and human behavior."
- "The gods and goddesses often interacted with humans, demonstrating the belief that they were involved in daily life."
- "Understanding Greek mythology helps us appreciate its influence on art, literature, and modern culture."
