

Objective

By the end of this lesson, Noah will gain a deeper understanding of the NC Chinese Lantern Festival of Lights, including its history, significance, and the various lantern designs. He will also engage in creative activities that allow him to express what he has learned about this beautiful festival.

Materials and Prep

- Paper (any color)
- Markers or colored pencils
- Scissors
- Glue or tape
- Access to the internet for research (optional)

Before starting the lesson, it may be helpful to do a little research on the NC Chinese Lantern Festival of Lights. This can include looking at pictures of the lanterns and reading about the history of the festival.

Activities

- Lantern Design Challenge:

Noah will create his own lantern design using paper, markers, and scissors. He can draw inspiration from traditional Chinese lanterns or come up with his own unique style. Once completed, he can display his lantern in a special spot at home.

- Festival History Presentation:

Noah will prepare a short presentation about the history and significance of the NC Chinese Lantern Festival of Lights. He can include interesting facts, like when it started and what types of lanterns are featured. He can present this to family members or friends.

- Lantern Poem:

Noah will write a poem inspired by the lanterns and the festival. He can think about what the lights represent and how they make people feel. This poem can be illustrated with drawings of lanterns and can be shared with others.

Talking Points

- "The NC Chinese Lantern Festival of Lights is a celebration of light and culture. It features beautiful lanterns that are often inspired by traditional Chinese designs."
- "Lanterns have been a part of Chinese culture for thousands of years. They symbolize good luck and are often used during festivals."
- "At the festival, you can see all kinds of lanterns, from animals to flowers, and some even light up at night, creating a magical atmosphere!"
- "The festival is not just about the lanterns; it also includes music, dance, and food, making it a fun experience for everyone!"
- "Creating your own lantern allows you to express your creativity and connect with the cultural significance behind the festival."