

Objective

By the end of this lesson, the student will be able to understand the concept of government and citizenship through a fun unicorn-themed activity.

Materials and Prep

- Unicorn coloring sheets
- Markers or crayons
- Scissors
- Glue
- Construction paper

No prior knowledge or preparation is required for this lesson.

Activities

1. Introduce the concept of government and citizenship by explaining that they are like the rules and responsibilities we have in our society.
2. Ask the student to think about what rules they follow at home and in school. Discuss why rules are important for everyone to have a safe and fair community.
3. Provide the student with a unicorn coloring sheet and have them color it creatively.
4. Help the student cut out the colored unicorn and glue it onto a piece of construction paper.
5. Encourage the student to think about what rules they would like to have in their unicorn kingdom. Have them draw or write these rules on the construction paper around the unicorn.
6. Discuss the importance of following rules and being a responsible citizen in their own unicorn kingdom.

Kindergarten Grade Talking Points

- "Government is like the rules we have in our society. It helps us live together in a safe and fair way."
- "We follow rules at home and in school. Can you think of some rules you follow?"
- "Rules are important because they help us have a safe and fair community."
- "Let's color a unicorn together! Use your favorite colors and be creative!"
- "Now, let's cut out the unicorn and glue it onto the construction paper."
- "Think about the rules you would like to have in your own unicorn kingdom. Draw or write them around the unicorn."
- "Following rules and being a responsible citizen is important in our own unicorn kingdom, just like in our real community."
