Before starting the lesson, make sure you have a basic understanding of different types of animals and their needs.

Activities

- Research an Animal: Choose an animal that you are interested in and research about its natural habitat, diet, and any special care it may need.
- Create an Animal Care Guide: Based on your research, create a care guide for your chosen animal. Include information about its habitat, diet, exercise, and any other important details for its well-being.
- Design an Animal Shelter: Imagine you are starting an animal shelter to help animals in need. Draw or describe how your shelter would look like, what facilities it would have, and how you would provide for the animals' welfare.
- Animal Quiz: Create a quiz with questions about different animals and their care. You can share it with your friends or family to test their knowledge.

Talking Points

- Animals have basic needs: Just like humans, animals have needs such as food, water, shelter, and love. They rely on us to provide for their well-being.
- Animal habitats: Animals live in different habitats, such as forests, deserts, oceans, or even our homes. Each habitat provides unique resources and challenges for animals.
- Different diets: Animals have different diets based on their species. Some are herbivores and eat plants, while others are carnivores and eat meat. Some animals are omnivores and eat both plants and meat.
- Exercise and play: Just like humans, animals need exercise and playtime to stay healthy and happy. They need space to move around, explore, and engage in activities that stimulate their bodies and minds.
- Animal shelters: Animal shelters are places where animals in need are cared for and provided with a safe environment. Shelters also help find new homes for animals that don't have one.
- Responsible pet ownership: Owning a pet is a big responsibility. It involves providing proper care, love, and attention to ensure the well-being of the animal.
